

Justice Studies

A strong desire to help others is an important consideration if you are interested in pursuing a career in Human Services. Individuals who show patience, understanding, and caring in their dealings with others are highly valued by employers.

The study of Justice Studies prepares students to understand the world from a variety of perspectives. The goal is to engage students in experiences that foster intellectual, cultural, professional and ethical development. Whether you want to go right into the workforce after graduation or want to pursue higher degrees, the Kilian Justice Studies program is a great place to start!

Associate of Science

Students in this program study juvenile crime and delinquency, community-based corrections, inmate treatment programs and other topics related specifically to the skills needed to work in various institutional and community correctional programs or facilities. Graduates from this program will have completed the Certified Nursing Assistant (C N A) program and have additional training in cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) and automated external defibrillator (AED).

Associate of Arts

This degree gives students who plan to pursue a Bachelor of Arts in criminal

Criminal Justice

What kind of job will I get?

Graduates from this program typically get jobs with the police department, probation officer, or correctional treatment specialists.

How much money will I make?

Average starting salary: $20,000—$30,000

STUDENT PROFILE

- Enjoys working with people
- Possess maturity and emotional stability
- Excellent communications skills
- Able to deal with emergencies and function well under stress